- A completed proposal consists of data entry fields submitted through the online module plus a series of PDF attachments, a confidential letter of support from your mentor, and approval from the degree granting institution's signing official.
- Applications will require a signature from the institutional signing official from the degree granting institution where the award will occur. REGISTERING ON PROPOSALCENTRAL

If the applicant/candidate does not have an account, the candidate must register on ProposalCentral by clicking the “Need an account?” button and creating a professional profile, including an unique user ID and password. Remember the login and password to access the application at a later time. Applications do not need to be completed in one setting.

If a professional profile has already been created, the candidate must verify the information for accuracy before submitting a completed application. Demographic data in the professional profile is for statistical use only.

When creating the professional profile, candidates will be asked to add a primary institution. This is the institution where the applicant currently holds a position. It is likely that the institution already has a profile on the system. To search for the institution:

- Input the institution name (partial) and click display results
- Information from the institutional profile will automatically populate, including the institutional officer

If your institution is not listed on ProposalCentral, please reach out to the ProposalCentral technical support staff to help with this process.

Candidates have the option of linking their ORCID to their ProposalCentral account. ORCID is a persistent digital identifier that is unique to individual researchers, where they can keep their CV information current and share with other systems. BWF does not require the use of ORCID at this time, but it is highly suggested. Visit orcid.org for additional details. To start a LOI from the professional profile, locate the red “Create New Proposal” button.

CREATING A NEW PROPOSAL

After Creating the professional profile and linking it to the appropriate institution, the next step is to begin the application using the following steps:

- Locate the Home tab within ProposalCentral and click the red “Create New Proposal” button
- Use the “Filter by Grantmaker” button to select the Burroughs Welcome Fund

- Locate Postdoctoral Diversity Enrichment Program and click the “Apply Now” button
- Verify that an application is being created for the Postdoctoral Diversity Enrichment Program
- Enter the project title and hit “Save.”
- Complete the application now or save and revisit later.

COMPLETING THE APPLICATION

All proposals must be submitted through the ProposalCentral site including a confidential recommendation letter to be uploaded by candidate's primary postdoctoral mentor.

Note that it is the responsibility of the candidate to ensure that the confidential letter is submitted by the deadline due date. Each element of the proposal must be completed before the application can be submitted, and an application will not be considered complete without this confidential recommendation letter.

The following pages and proposal elements must be completed prior to submission (all fields with a red asterisk are required):

Visit orcid.org for additional details.

Institution:

Candidates MUST apply from an accredited degree-granting institution in the U.S. or Canada. An institution includes its medical school, graduate schools, and all affiliated hospitals or research institutes. The mentor must hold an appointment at the degree granting institution. If the candidate is selected to submit a full proposal, the institutional official will need to sign off on the proposal.

Be certain the Lead Institution is the institution where the primary postdoc mentor has an appointment. If you need to change the institution, please click "Change Institution" and search for the appropriate organization. If this institution does not have a profile in ProposalCentral, contact ProposalCentral for technical assistance.

Candidates that are postdocs at independent research institutes may be eligible if the research institute is a non-profit institution (501(c)(3) or equivalent) in the U.S. or Canada and the primary postdoctoral mentor holds an appointment at an accredited, degree-granting institution in the U.S. or Canada. If both criteria are met, the candidate is eligible to apply but must apply through the degree-granting institution. With the exception of eligible postdoctoral fellows at the National Institutes of Health, applications will not be accepted from federal facilities. These policies are non-negotiable.

Institutions in the New York metro area may be eligible to receive a PDEP Revson Scholar award.

Nominating Institution and Contacts (including Signatory Official):

The institution is where the proposed work will be performed during the postdoc portion of the award and the degree-granting institution where the postdoc mentor holds an appointment. The institution for the proposal may not be changed.

■ Institutional Certification and Signature from Signing Official

Candidates MUST obtain approval from the degree granting institution that nominated them. Applications will need to be approved by an official responsible for sponsored programs (generally from the institution's grants and contract's office, office of research, or sponsored program's office). The institutional or signing official should be added in this section. An email will be generated to the institutional officer/signing official notifying that an application is in progress. The institutional/signing official will need to certify your eligibility for the award, that the

It is the responsibility of the applicant to follow-up with the Signing Official with instructions. The proposal may NOT be submitted without the signature of the Signing Official. By adding the official to the application, you are granting access to the application.
